

Practice partners

Please utilize your practice partners when you are away! Start with the ones in your year, but feel free to look at the other years for someone who might be more available.

- Direct email messages and important lab data that is time sensitive towards your practice partner (Boxes at AFMC would now say “please direct important messages to (fill in practice partner name) from 10/1- 11/1”, for example. Furthermore, outgoing email away messages should be created, such as “I will be away from 10/1-11/1, for important matters, please email (insert practice partner name AND email address)”. You can also use yellow cards available in the bowling alley which will help staff identify who is covering for you to be taped on your box.

You might utilize your partner for the following:

- Follow up of an important lab value while you are away or have the weekend off (and they are working)
- Consider having as a go-to back up for OB continuity deliveries (set up at least one appointment with them during pre-partum in case you can’t make it to the delivery!)
- Third years, you might recognize some of your practice partners from first year, but we have made some small adjustments, to arrange by suite, for your convenience
